Politics Warming Up in County; No Babies, No Rain Yet

No rain and no babies. Even my calendar—almanac I have right here before me gives little encouragement for rain this month but this baby business has got me.

No Harrisburg babies yet this year when these lines were being written at 2:41 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 6. Six whole days and no babies in this township. Eldorado had its baby just a half hour after the new year came in. We've had babies born here from Independence, Cottage and other townships but none from Harrisburg.

Of course I shouldn't be one to talk about this no-baby business but I'll almost wager one thing: That there'll be a winner now before this bit gets into print.

And while we're on the subject of rain—or lack of rain is more like it—one of the water board members was approached the other day and asked why it was that Eldorado could have plenty of water in its reservoir and Harrisburg couldn't.

It was explained that the Eldorado reservoir has a good watershed.

"Then why don't we build a good one?" he asked.

And while we're on the subject of weather:

A man, motoring through a rural village stopped at a country store for cigarettes. On the wall was a sign which said: "This store will be closed Aug. 23 on account of the weather."

As it was only Aug. 15 the man asked the proprietor how he could know what the weather would be so far in advance.

"Well, if she rains light," the proprietor explained, "I'm going fishing. If she rains heavy, I'm going to stay home and work on my tackle."

"But," quizzed the stranger, "how do you know it's going to rain?"

"Don't care if it rains or not," was reply. "If it's sunny I'll go fishing or work on my tackle anyway. It all depends on the weather."

Uptown changes: The Turner cafe has opened up on West Church street in the Hamilton building. Jimmy Lambert and Everett Raines are getting ready to open a heating, plumbing and sheet metal shop on upper Vine street where the Midsarfer harness shop used to be, with Jimmy managing the new business. Mitchell Golish has moved his music business uptown across from Television building.

Policies is warming up. Besides some already mentioned, Timmo has seen or been told that Dave Evans, Republican, has petitions out for representative, Laymon Jones, Eldorado Republican, and James B. Woolard, Galatia Democrat, are petitioning for sheriff, and Wilbur Leitch of Eldorado is petitioning for county clerk on the Republican ticket.

Others from Saline county who already have been mentioned in the news columns as seeking nomination in the April primary are Glen O. Jones, Republican, for state senator; Dale Sullivan and Raymond Field, Republicans for state representative; Henry C. Dempsey and Ebert May, Republicans for sheriff; Roy Ross Lane, Democrat for sheriff; Paul Spangler, Republican for county treasurer; and Paul Hilliard, Republican for county clerk.

Betcha I left somebody out and betcha I hear about it.

Cases Continued Due To Illness of Counsel

County Judge Ralph W. Choisser yesterday granted motions for continuances until the next jury calendar of two cases set for hearing on Monday.

The motions were filed by Jack M. Morris, employee in the law offices of Atty. Scerial Thompson, and they asked for continuance until Feb. 8 because of illness of Mr. Thompson.

They involved the cases of James Harrison Banks and Herman Malone, both charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and reckless driving.

The case of James S. Blanchard Sr. of Metropolis against Ebasco Services Inc. before the Illinois Industrial commission has been settled for $4,130. Mr. Blanchard, who injured his shoulder at the Joppa Steam plant when he fell from a ladder last Nov. 18, was represented by Atty. K. C. Ronalds of Harrisburg. Atty. B. C. Kleene of St. Louis represented the company.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commanding the United States army, answered Pyun's threat with the blunt warning that he would use his troops against any attempt to use force.

Notice to Citizens of Harrisburg

wishes to take this method of showing its wholehearted support of Harrisburg city officials in the proposed Harrisburg lake project, and the pipeline from Indian Head mine site for an emergency water supply if needed. Collectively and as individuals, the Kiwanis Club feels that the desperate water situation in Harrisburg requires just such action as the city council and water board have undertaken.

WE FIND IT ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE...

that any public-spirited, forward-looking citizen of this city could justifiably object IN ANY WAY to the solutions proposed for improving and perpetuating our water supply. It has been a sore situation for years, and there is no other hope for improvement. It has been a tremendous roadblock in our search for new industry for the Harrisburg area, a project in which all of us are actively interested.

WE CAN POSITIVELY ASSURE YOU...

that the purpose behind this project is solely for the public good. Every action taken is on record for all to see . . . there are no selfish interests in operation . . . no under-the-table dealings . . . no private profits at public expense.

WE THEREFORE URGE EVERY CITIZEN...

of this community to support your city council and water board in whatever actions are necessary to insure a plentiful source of water for this community. Whatever benefits Harrisburg benefits every citizen of Harrisburg.

THIS PROJECT MUST NOT FAIL!..

Washington — A second House investigation was underway today into reports that junketing congressmen spent close to $300,000 in "blank check" foreign currency, in addition to travel funds provided by this government, on overseas trips last summer and fall.

The legislators are not required under law to make any accounting of how they spent this so-called "counterpart" money — local currency put up by foreign governments to match dollar aid from this country.

Chairman Karl M. Lecomte (R-Iowa) said his House Administration committee has asked the chairman of five other House groups for a report on counterpart money spent by their globe-trotting members. He promised to make public whatever information he gets.

Earlier, Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), chairman of the House committee on Government Operations, launched a similar inquiry.

Hoffman was understood today to have prepared a detailed new questionnaire for the State Department on what it knows about the spending of counterpart funds.

The department asks no questions but does keep records of how much counterpart each traveling lawmaker gets. It is reported totalling up the bill now, for a report to Hoffman and Lecomte if and when they demand it.

A source in position to know told the United Press the actual figure isn't known yet but that the total for the past travel season "won't run over $300,000."

This would be in addition to dollar funds which Lecomte's committee supplies members for authorized travel. Presumably members don't charge Lecomte's committee for any items for which they also drew counterpart funds. But he would like to have the full picture of what they spent. Under the present arrangement, he has not been getting it.

The Aga Khan Soon to Receive Weight In Platinum

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The plump Aga Khan is eating lightly these days even though every ounce he loses will be worth its weight in platinum soon.

The 78-year-old Moslem spiritual leader will leave for Pakistan at the end of this month to climb into a special chair scale and receive—at least symbolically—his weight in precious platinum.

His weight was last estimated at 202 pounds, which makes him worth $181,800 at the current price of $75 an ounce for platinum.

The Aga has been confined to his bed with a slight indisposition for several days and is eating lightly—mostly such things as rice, stewed prunes and figs. A diet like this is certain to cause him to lose weight.

But the Aga really doesn't care, because he has all the money he could ever use.

Whenever the annual weighing in precious metals or gems comes around he customarily gives the contributions back to his followers to be used for charitable and developmental work.

This is the 70th anniversary of the Aga's leadership of the Ismaili Moslems and tradition demands that he receive his weight in platinum.

But he has announced he doesn't expect his followers to scour the world for enough of the precious metal to balance his weight. He said he will be satisfied with a symbolic portion of platinum and the good wishes of his people.

Not Natural

The natural color of mahogany is a very pale yellow, but staining of this wood has been popular for so long that the name suggests red or brown, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Using barite as an aggregate in concrete, engineers can construct buildings to withstand the blast of bombs well and also to shield persons inside from death-dealing gamma rays of A-bombs.

DREW PEARSON Says:

Ike's Mysterious Conversation With Bolivian Ambassador Was About Golf; Korean Troop Withdrawal Indicates Radical Change; U. S. Military Worried Over Proposed Use Of A-Bombs In Future Korean Strategy.

WASHINGTON.—At a recent White House dinner for the diplomatic corps, ambassadors were curious over an animated conversation between President Eisenhower and Bolivian Ambassador Victor Andrade. The President had dined with Andrade longer than with any other diplomat.

Ambassador Andrade represents a country with plenty of problems, though many of them have been ironed out, thanks to his own astute diplomacy. However, Bolivia is still woed by Dictator Peron and troubled by some Communist agitators; so there was a lot of speculation among envoys as to what the two men talked about—especially when Andrade remained mysteriously mum.

However, the subject of their conversation was — golf.

The Bolivian ambassador, who plays in about the same 80-to-90 scoring range as the President, but plays at the Chevy Chase club, not Burning Tree, was asked whether he had ever played with Gen. Frank Allen, former commander of the 3rd Armored Division and European public-relations chief for Ike during the war—a member of Chevy Chase.

Then the President quizzed Andrade about golf in the upper altitudes of La Paz, capital of Bolivia. One golf course in La Paz is about 14,000 feet above sea level. And in that rarefied atmosphere, the ambassador explained, the ball goes much farther. He said he had sometimes driven 400 yards on a shot which would have been around 250 yards in the U. S. A.

And that was what had other diplomats buzzing at the White House dinner.

TROOPS OUT OF KOREA

The order to withdraw 21,000 U. S. troops from Korea caused some backstage bitterness in the Pentagon, but is one of the most important policy steps the United States has ever taken in regard to future war.

It completely reverses the old State Department-Pentagon policy against using the atom bomb. It also marks the beginning of American reliance on atom bombs instead of land armies.

Hitherto, Secretary of State Acheson was dead opposed to using the A-bomb in Korea or in neighboring China. So was Gen. Omar Bradley and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. So also were our western allies. And when President Truman once let drop in a press conference the idea that he was even considering the use of the A-bomb in Korea, Clement Attlee, prime minister of England came rushing across the Atlantic to stop him.

Today, however, it is Secretary of State Dulles and the civilian chief of the Defense Department who have reversed this policy.

U. S. military leaders are decidedly doubtful. Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has held a private debate with Secretary Dulles, arguing that if it becomes necessary to stop aggression we should try to confine ourselves to little, limited wars. We should not let war spread.

This is a reversal of position for Admiral Radford. Now in the No. 1 military spot of the nation, Admiral Radford of late has been arguing for "conventional weapons" and for outlawing the atom bomb.

SKEPTICAL RIDGWAY

Gen. Matt Ridgway, Army chief of staff, and brilliant ex-commander in Korea, has been equally skeptical of the new policy. Privately he branded the withdrawal

Seek Youth in Mystery Killing

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — St. Clair county sheriff's deputies sought today for a youth wanted for questioning in the mystery killing of a 27-year-old teacher near Lebanon, Ill.

Deputies reported Wednesday that they obtained a description of a youth who molested a couple the night before Edgar Schaefer, a teacher at the Mascoutah, Ill., grade school, was slain.

The incident, which was not reported by the couple, occurred about 10 miles from the murder scene and under similar circumstances.

The couple told deputies that the youth, about 20 years old, forced his way into their car while they were parked on a lonely road and attempted to attack the girl after tying up the man. He carried a flashlight and a .22-caliber pistol, they said.

Schaefer was shot through the heart by a .22-caliber bullet as he stepped from his car to confront an intruder. He and 19-year-old Gay Odum had also been seated in a car in a lonely roadside park off U.S. 50 near Lebanon.

Deputies said they were led to the couple on a tip.

Ballistics tests were being made on three weapons obtained in the investigation.

HELD IN GOVERNMENT THEFT — James R. Landis, an employee of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving in Washington, D.C., and his wife, Mamie, are escorted from the Treasury Department to be arraigned in connection with the theft of $160,000 in new twenty-dollar bills from the bureau's "fool-proof" vault. Another government employee was arrested in the robbery after most of the money had been recovered. (NEA Telephoto)

Mrs. Raymond Greer Hostess To Baptist Amoma Class

Mrs. Raymond Greer was hostess to the Amoma Class of the First Baptist church Tuesday night.

The meeting opened with the singing of the class hymn and prayer by Mrs. Walter Wirth, who presided in the absence of the class president, Mrs. C. E. Boyett.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Cyrus Steinsultz, and Mrs. Corby Wickham gave a topic on New Year celebrations in various countries.

The social program was conducted by Mrs. Wirth.

Mrs. Harry Bogas dismissed the group with prayer which was followed by the serving of refreshments by the hostess and co-hostess.

Mrs. A. C. Parks Entertains Loyal Daughters Class Of Christian Church

The January meeting of the Loyal Daughters class of the First Christian church was held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. A. C. Parks with 19 present.

Mrs. Joe Harris opened the meeting with prayer which was followed with a beautiful devotion given by Mrs. Claude Parker, which expressed appreciation to the members for their co-operation this past year. She also read a poem which was appropriate, "A Friend's Greeting."

The president, Mrs. Parker, presided for the short business discussion which included activities for the coming year and a new plan of visitation.

Each member brought tea towels to replenish the church kitchen supply, and cards were sent to Mrs. Ray Goben and Mrs. John Hill.

Mrs. Ed Evans, Miss Bess Pemberton and Miss Velma Ogg were appointed as teachers.

Mrs. Parker closed the meeting with prayer.

Recreation was conducted by Mrs. John Poulos, Mrs. Wayne Brackney and Mrs. Parks. Bible quizzes and New Year's resolutions were given, and Mrs. Bill Sloan, Miss Pemberton, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. Parker and Ruth Thompson were presented prizes.

Mrs. Claude Wiggins assisted Mrs. Parks in serving delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and spiced tea.

Others present besides those mentioned were Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Frelan Smith, Mrs. Leonard Gooden, Mrs. Paul Roberson, Mrs. H. L. Lightfoot, Mrs. James Ferrell, Mrs. Wayman Poole and Mrs. Bess Hagler.

Congress next Monday.
10. He wants Congress to vote off his estranged wife Bobo a divorce settlement of $5½ million dollars today and told her to take it or leave it.

11. Statehood for Hawaii.
12. A constitutional amendment to let 18-year-old's vote.

13. Government underwriting of private hospital and medical insurance programs to make possible broader coverage.

Mr. Eisenhower outlined most of his program in broad, general terms, leaving the details for a series of special messages which he will send to Congress later this month.

Optimism and Preparedness
He appealed for Democratic support of his program by saying that "both of our great parties can support the general objective of the recommendations I make . . . for that objective is the building of a stronger America."

The chief executive's picture of the economy was a mixture of optimism and preparedness. He said it is "one of the wonders of the world" and his administration intends to keep it strong and growing.

Among the administration's plans for doing this, he listed: Flexible credit, "tax measures to stimulate consumer and business spending," federal works plans "laid well in advance," improved farm programs and "enlarged" opportunities for foreign trade and investment.

He acknowledged the possibility that "new conditions"—a recession—might arise. If this happens, he said, "the administration will still be ready . . . to take well-timed and vigorous action, and a business community willing, as ours is, to plan boldly and with confidence, can between them develop a climate assuring steady economic growth."

To Reduce Obligations

He proposed that by keeping new appropriations requests below estimated revenues, the government could continue whittling down the accumulation of unfunded obligations inherited from the Truman administration.

"Until those claims on our government's revenues are further reduced," he said, "the growth of

Winthrop Offers Bobo $5½ Million, Says Take It or Leave It

NEW YORK (AP) — Multi-millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller offered his estranged wife Bobo a divorce settlement of $5½ million dollars today and told her to take it or leave it.

The Standard Oil heir let it be known he would not even consider Bobo's reported demand for a 10-million-dollar settlement.

Either figure would set a new record for alimony in the files of divorce.

Attorneys met for more than an hour Wednesday without reporting progress in the long negotiations to write a legal conclusion to the Cinderella romance which united Rockefeller and the Pennsylvania-born coal miner's daughter six years ago.

For several centuries, the world rate of population growth has increased steadily. At the present growth rate of approximately one per cent a year, world population will double in 70 years. The last doubling took more than a century.

the public debt cannot be entirely stopped."

Just before the adjournment of Congress last August, the President asked Congress to increase the current 275 billion dollar debt limit, but his recommendation was passed up.

He renewed the request today, saying a debt limit increase was necessary "because the government's bills have to be paid every month, while the tax money to pay them comes in with great unevenness—and because of the need for flexibility to manage this enormous debt."

With his recommendation for forced forfeiture of citizenship if those convicted of advocating violent government overthrow, the President disclosed that under his administration's new employee security program, more than 2,200 federal workers have been dismissed for security reasons.

The last announced total was 1,456 workers. The President said the investigation of new employees and the evaluation of derogatory information about present workers requires additional funds from Congress.

"Until those claims on our government's revenues are further reduced," he said, "the growth of

"It Pays to Buy Your Shoes at a Shoe Store"

During the last 50 years, population of the world has increased 826,000,000 and still is rising.

These firms, which have offices in 426 cities, will operate the plan calling for regular investments ranging from $40 up to $1,000, monthly or quarterly.

The plan is designed primarily for the "small" investor who now can purchase stock similar to the way in which he pays for a refrigerator or automobile.

But the market is not limited to low income groups, the "big board" points out. "More than one-half of the families with incomes between $10,000 and $25,000 a year own no shares at all," it says.

Therefore, the doctor, lawyer and merchant—as well as the plumber and store clerk—becomes a potential customer for the plan.

NCAA Committee Approves One Game TV Policy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — The NCAA Television committee today recommended the present policy of one game a week on TV continued but raised a possibility of more football for the arm-chair fan, on a delayed basis.

The report, suggesting that too much football on television could wreck attendance, recommended that one game be televised nationally and that films of major games be presented later.

The report, which will be up for adoption by the National Collegiate Athletic Association Friday, said during this year a study should be made of presenting films of major games sometime after the game was played.

The committee also recommended a study of subscription television under which individuals would pay for the service and of a study of piping television of certain games into theaters.

Expected to Win Approval

The committee report said, "the future of intercollegiate football and the athletic and physical education programs dependent upon it can be seriously threatened if attendance at football games is reduced through over-television."

The policy of televising one game per week was expected to win approval on the convention floor Friday. It had been expected. Asa Bushnell, director of the NCAA Television committee, had said that college athletic directors voted about 60 per cent in favor of the present policy.

To Propose Regional Controls

Committee Chairman Robert J. Kane of Cornell said no plan had been received as yet for regional controls, such as advocated by a number of Midwest schools. It was expected, however, that the Big Ten conference and other schools would propose such a setup in today's conference.

The Television committee also reported on the effects of video on other college sports, including basketball and baseball. The report was assembled from a survey tabulated during the last two days.

Notre Dame Athletic Director Edward (Moose) Krause also was expected to let his feelings regarding the television question be known at the meeting. His efforts to get the restrictions lifted in various conventions have met with failure.

Wilkinson to Stay at Oklahoma

"Television Notre Dame's games isn't going to hurt the smaller colleges," Krause said. "They're going to have the same size crowds regardless of what we do."

"The middle sized colleges would be hurt, but if they're afraid to compete against television, let them play their games on Friday or Saturday nights," he said.

Rumors concerning coaching vacancies and formation of new leagues continued to crop up, but one was dispelled when Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson said he was not interested in taking the Minnesota head coaching job.

Lattner, Worden Want to Play Pro Football in the U.S.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — All American Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame wants to embark on a pro football career in the United States.

However, he said Wednesday night, his final plans depend on which National Football League team drafts me.

Lattner, in a radio interview, denied reports that he is already committed to play pro football in Canada.

He did say, however, that he talked with Canadian football officials last week in San Francisco where he appeared briefly in the East-West Shrine game.

Neil Worden, Lattner's teammate on the powerful Notre Dame squad, said on the same program that he, too, is interested in playing National League pro ball.

Blackbourn Named Head Coach of Green Bay Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Lisle W. Blackbourn, head football coach at Marquette university, today was named head coach of the Green Bay Packers.

Blackbourn agreed to terms at the NCAA meeting at Cincinnati, O., where he conferred with Verne Lewellen, who was recently appointed general manager of the Packers.

The 54-year-old Blackbourn signed a three-year contract to coach the Packers, one of the oldest teams in the National Football League. He succeeds Gene Ronzani who was forced to resign Nov. 27 because of the club's poor showing in 1953.

Blackbourn will be only the third coach the Packers have had since the club was founded by Curly Lambeau in 1919. Lambeau coached the team for 30 years until he was fired in 1949. Ronzani, a former star of the Chicago Bears, succeeded Lambeau in 1950 and served until he resigned with two games to go in the 1953 season.

The announcement of Blackbourn's appointment came only a few hours after Hugh Devore accepted the head coaching job at the University of Dayton. Devore, who was an assistant coach of the Packers last season, was considered the leading candidate for the head coaching job, but it was reported he wanted to get back into the collegiate ranks. This was his first year in pro football.

The Television committee also reported on the effects of video on other college sports, including basketball and baseball. The report was assembled from a survey tabulated during the last two days.

Notre Dame Athletic Director Edward (Moose) Krause also was expected to let his feelings regarding the television question be known at the meeting. His efforts to get the restrictions lifted in various conventions have met with failure.

LaSalle's Tom Gola, Navy's Don Lange and Bevo Francis Set New Scoring Records

NEW YORK (UPI) — Record-smashing scoring performances boosted the All-America stock to day of La Salle's slick Tom Gola, Navy's hook-shooting Don Lange, and the fabulous Clarence (Bevo) Francis of Rio Grande College.

Gola and Lange set new scoring records for their schools, Gola with 41 points in a 97-63 victory Wednesday night over Loyola of Baltimore and Lange with 43 points in a 94-50 victory over Johns Hopkins in a day game.

The 6-foot, 9-inch Francis wiped out the record for the Butler University field house as he poured in 48 points in an 81-68 triumph over Butler.

Six-foot, 6-inch Gola, only member of last year's United Press All-America first team still playing college ball, sank 16 field goals and 9 free throws to erase the La Salle record of 39 points set five years ago by big Larry Foust, now a professional star. Gola capped a brilliant show by grabbing 26 rebounds. La Salle, ranked 16th nationally, opened up a 27-11 first period lead over winless Loyola and breezed to its 10th win in 13 starts.

Holy Cross Wins

Lange clicked for 16 field goals and 11 free throws as he smashed the Navy record of 39 points which he himself set last year. For Navy, ranked 18th nationally and recent runner-up in the Dixie Classic Tournament, it was the seventh victory in nine games.

Francis, a second team All-America selection last season, sank 17 field goals and

Opposition to Guard Plan More Than Sentimental: Bohlen

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry Bolen said today opposition to Gov. William G. Stratton's National Guard reorganization plan was based on something more than "sentimental reasons."

"There is another word for it in the Army—esprit de corps," said Bolen, who was commander of the abolished 44th Illinois National Guard Division. He made his statement after Stratton announced the organization plan of the new 33rd Division which consolidates the old 33rd and 44th divisions.

The governor told a news conference much of the opposition to the plan was based on "sentimental reasons."

Bolen said the reorganization plan had caused "resentment throughout Illinois" on the part of National Guard members. He charged there was "no sound reasoning" behind Stratton's plan which the governor said was based on an economy measure.

The 44th Division guardsmen returned last month from active duty and had planned tentatively for a reunion-welcome home party in Springfield next month. Bolen indicated the reunion would be second now to a fight against the reorganization.

"We're concerned at the moment with saving the division," he said. "The reunion plans will have to wait."

Anna Mayor Asks Water Conservation

ANNA, Ill. (AP)—Mayor Dale Denny today issued a proclamation calling for all Anna residents to conserve water because of a water shortage in the area.

The proclamation followed an announcement that the state hospital near here has a 30-day water supply remaining. Water for the city and hospital comes from deep wells in which water levels are falling.

The mayor's proclamation did not set any definite restrictions on water use.

Earth Tremors in Pennsylvania Area

READING, Pa. (AP)—A series of rumbling earth tremors rattled windows and knocked down several chimneys in the Reading area early today.

Many residents, awakened by seven distinct shocks, feared a powerful explosion had occurred. State and local police were swamped with telephone calls inquiring about the tremors.

State police said the heaviest shock was felt in Sinking Spring, about 4 miles west of here, but some calls came as far as 8 or 10 miles from the city.

At New York, the Rev. Joseph J. Lynch of Fordham University said the tremor was recorded on the university's seismograph.

Tricky Chinese Reds Catch Tartar in Ambassador Dean

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Red Chinese and North Korean Communist peace negotiators have let it be known that they will withdraw their charges of "perfidy" against the United States. They have further declared their willingness to expunge the record of this remark.

The Communists are most eager to resume the peace negotiations at Panmunjom. Any decision to have U. S. Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean return to Korea to resume the negotiations is being delayed, however, pending a complete review of the situation in Washington.

The inside story of why Ambassador Dean broke off the negotiations on Dec. 12 reveals what the United Nations are up against in trying to make peace with the Communists in Korea. The Communists have been using these negotiations for propaganda purposes via the Peiping radio and other media, all over Asia. It became necessary for Ambassador Dean to break up this racket. He did so decisively and effectively.

The situation arose out of a conference rule first established when the military leaders were arranging the cease-fire agreement. This rule was that when one side did not wish to reply immediately to a statement by the other side, it could say in effect, "Your statement is noted." The session could then be recessed while the answering side thought up appropriate remarks or a counterproposal. REDS USED PROCEDURE AS BLIND FOR PROPAGANDA

When the negotiations over time, place and composition of the peace conference began in October, the Communists began to use this procedure to make propaganda. At the start of nearly every meeting, the Communist spokesman would read a prepared statement. Usually this statement would contain a denunciation of the U. S., the UN or South Korea. These statements became increasingly abusive.

Ambassador Dean at first let these insults roll off his tough lawyer's hide without comment. His desire was to get on with arranging a peace conference. He made a perfect negotiator, from the United Nations point of view, because he did not get angry and did not blow his top under Communist goading. But then he became aware of what was happening and he saw that he must change his tactics.

It was noted that every meeting day, the Peiping radio was broadcasting the text of the Communists' prepared statements. Often these statements were broadcast 24 hours before the Communist delegates were to make them. And the broadcasters would then report that the United Nations' side had not denied the charges nor replied to them.

The effect was to create the impression that Ambassador Dean was admitting the charges.

The showdown came on Dec. 12 when Wang Huang-hua, the principal

Southern Division Display Recalls Early Days in Illinois Education

On display at the Centennial IEA convention held recently in Chicago was a collection of posters depicting "Only Yesterday at S. I. U." and the beginning of free schools in 1825. Standing in front of the exhibit are (left to right) L. Goebel Patton, Sup't of schools, West Frankfort, chairman public relations, Southern Division, IEA; Agatha White, teacher, Logan Junior high school, Murphysboro, chairman IEA Centennial exhibit, Southern Division; Esther Stephens, teacher, Royalton, co-chairman of IEA Centennial exhibit; and Dr. Victor Randolph, SIU, Carbondale, president, Southern Division, IEA.

At the Centennial exhibit were numerous other mementos of education in the Southern Division. Among the items displayed were an album dedicated to the oldest living teachers in the 14 counties of the Southern Division, old texts (including McGuffey's fifth reader), and a photostatic copy of a teacher's certificate issued under the regime of the Illinois School Commissioner. Unusual school histories were displayed of "Hogback" in Hardin county, "Hard to Find" in Johnson county, "Reagan School" near Ozark, Illinois, and "Ozburn" school in Jackson county. County reports of Union, Franklin, Gallatin, and Johnson counties were displayed.

Illinois State Teacher's Association Journal and Proceedings of the 46th Annual Convention held at Springfield on December 28, 1954, was also displayed.

S. I. U.'s growth was traced from its origin through the destruction by fire to the present and dreams of future architectural plans.

If you think we are disciplined, what do you think of these rules set up for control of a school in 1875?

"1—Each scholar is expected to keep its seat during school hours and not change without permission.

"2—Whispering or talking during school hours without permission is forbidden.

"3—Each scholar is required to have the lesson assigned unless they can give a sufficient reason for not getting it.

"4—No scholar will be permitted to quarrel, curse, or swear, fight, wrestle, throw anything at each other, nickname, black guard, make obscene pictures, or do any other thing immoral or offensive to anyone during school. No scholar must play in the school room, talk loud or make any unusual noise, sing any low, silly song, or any other thing that is contrary to good manners at seats or at any intermission of school duties.

"5—No scholar must hallo or make any loud noise on the road going from or to school. I am confident that you all will observe these rules, and do yourselves justice.

Oldest Book

The Book of the Dead probably is the oldest book in the world. It consists of religious texts which, according to old Egyptian faith, were designed to guide and protect the dead as they wandered through the lower regions.

Do-It-Yourself Era Called Dangerous

BOSTON — An insurance company says the "do-it-yourself" trend sweeping the country has one painful drawback. It may cause a sharp increase in home accidents.

The company says an average of 638,000 persons annually suffer everything from broken fingernails to broken legs while doing home repairs and construction.

More than 180,000 annually get hurt making their own furniture. Other activities accounting for large numbers of accidents include replacing broken window panes, exterior and interior painting, putting up or taking down storm windows, repairing or painting chimneys, putting up television aerials and pruning trees.

The company (American Mutual Liability Insurance) said general carpentry accounts for 72,000 accidents annually.

"Home repair is a satisfying spare time pursuit and helps keep expenses down," the company says. "But before you tackle each

The '54 BUICK's got it—
The BIG CHANGE you've been hoping for!

Exemplar of the 1954 Buick's years-from-now styling is this stunning new SUPER Riviera

THE instant you see these 1954 Buicks, you'll know that something sensational has happened in automobile styling.

Here is vastly more than the usual model changeover. Here is vastly more than could be done just by warming over what Buick had before. Here is something accomplished by going far beyond artful face-lifting.

Here is that rarity of rarities—a completely new line of automobiles.

But Buick didn't stop with the bolder, fresher, swifter-lined beauty you see in raised and lengthened fender sweep—in the huge and back-swept expanse of windshield—in the lowered roofline—in the host more glamor features of exterior modernity.

They upped all horsepowers to the highest in Buick history.

They engineered a new V8 for the SPECIAL—and in the process came up with new Power-Head Pistons that boost gasoline mileage in every engine.

They brought to market a sparkling newcomer with a famous name, the Buick CENTURY—a car with phenomenal horsepower for its weight and price—a car with more pure thrill per dollar than any Buick ever built.

And they did all this without change of the price structure which, for years, has made Buick the most popular car at its price in the world.

We invite you in to inspect these great beauties, these great performers, these great buys. Then you'll see why the Detroit previewers are already saying, "Buick's the beautiful buy!"

Sen. Dirksen and Park Livingston Sport
New Low-Numbered Auto License Plates

By DON CHAMBERLAIN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (Special) — One Illinois U. S. senator and another who has ambitions in that direction are sporting new low-numbered passenger automobile license plates. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Peoria Park Livingston, has number 222 and Park Livingston, LaGrange, who is a candidate for Republican nomination for U. S. senator, has number 142.

The two had requested low numbers and when 222 and 142 became available through deaths of former holders, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter assigned them to Dirksen and Livingston respectively. Former holder of 222 was a woman resident of Chicago. The former holder of 142 was the late State Sen. Simon E. Lantz, Congerville.

Thus Dirksen and Livingston join a very select group of both Republicans and Democrats who have swanky low-license numbers. They include former Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett (No. 66); State Sen. Arthur J. Bidwill (72); Cong. Robert McChesney (98); former Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett (21); Chicago Municipal Court Clerk Joseph L. Gill (90).

Earth-Waves
Earth-waves, set up by an earthquake, are of three types, two of which travel through the earth, while the third travels along the surface. Scientists know the speed with which these waves travel, and are able to determine the location of the quake.

The force of adhesion between two materials is believed to reside in a relatively few layers of molecules next to each surface.

Upward Trend in Property Values

CHICAGO (AP)—The assessed valuation of real property is continuing its upward trend, according to the National Association of Assessing Officers.

Forty-eight cities and 24 counties, each with more than 100,000 population, took part in the association's survey.

The study showed that the average increase in real property valuation in 1953 was 7.36 per cent, compared with 4.6 per cent in 1952, 4.4 per cent in 1951 and 2.9 per cent in 1950.

The biggest single hike was in Erie, Pa., where assessed valuation leaped by 130 per cent, or $215,000,000, in a year. Erie revised its assessments from a 1932-33 base to a 1952 base.

Boston was the only jurisdiction to report a drop in assessed valuation, a decline of 3.6 per cent. But several—including Akron, O., Buffalo, N. Y., and Salt Lake City, Utah—noted losses in land value. In each case, however, there was an over-all increase because of improvements.

In Akron, the increase was big enough to place it among four jurisdictions besides Erie with increases of more than 25 per cent over the previous year. The other three were Atlanta, Ga., with a 34 per cent increase; Corpus Christi, Tex., 35 per cent, and Dade County, Fla., 50 per cent.

New York City's assessed valuation rose $376,500,000, but this represented only a 1.98 per cent boost because the city's previous valuation was $18,500,000,000.

"Glaciers" of stone are found in the Falkland Islands, masses of quartzite slowly sliding into the sea, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Marble Making Bid for Home Popularity

This modern marble table, designed by an amateur, looks as elegant with traditional furniture as it would in a contemporary setting. The pale ivory top is three feet square and rests on a simple, cross-barred wrought iron base.

By Kay SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

It doesn't take a divining rod to spot the trend in home furnishings toward wider use of marble. You see the polished slabs in contemporary furniture designs and in period reproductions.

Young homemakers are discovering what their grandmas knew all the time: marble looks elegant and is eminently practical. It fits as smoothly into the uncluttered modern interior as it does in the cozy traditional room.

If you're lucky enough to find or inherit an old-time marble-topped commode, you've got a wonderful server. Marble can take hot or cold dishes, damp glasses and food spills without ringing or staining.

An old marble-topped shaving stand I latched onto is now a perfect, space-saving, stand-up dressing table in the tiny room we laughingly call our guest room.

Any cosmetic casualties are spiffed off with soap and water. Periodically a coat of clear wax buffed on with a borrowed polisher keeps the top gleaming.

A slab of marble on a simple wrought-iron base makes a luxurious and practical coffee table. You can "design" your own table to suit your needs. It won't be cheap, but, considering that marble's beauty never wears out, the cost is not exorbitant.

To keep costs down, use standard sizes and shapes. Go shopping for the top at a marble yard or a cut-stone dealer. A friend of mine is haunting old houses that are to be torn down to find a marble mantel which she hopes to convert to a long, narrow coffee table.

At a marble yard you will find a wide selection of shadings, veining and colors, including black, white, pink, buff and green. The simpler the table top design, the less it will cost.

My neighbor found that a three-foot square of fine domestic marble, polished on top and sides, would cost $42. This gives you a rough idea of cost, although prices will vary according to size, thickness and grade of marble.

The table base in metal or wood could be worked out by an experienced household handyman. But marble is heavy—weighing around 16 pounds per square foot—so the base must be well-built and designed to support this weight.

My neighbor took her problem to our local blacksmith and he is building the wrought-iron base.

Marble has an inherent beauty that looks its most elegant, I think, in the simplest settings, which are also the least expensive.
